Innovative strategies to prevent injuries in the work place!

Dr. Sheila O'Halloran

Dr. Sheila O'Halloran is going to share with us the easy step-by-step procedures she teaches employers to use that can be immediately implemented to begin preventing injuries. Her system has successfully shown employers how to monitor their employees each day as they show up for work and help them catch some "injuries" prior to them becoming a work comp statistic!

The "basic tenets" of health will be reviewed by Dr. O'Halloran in a very unique way. She will also discuss the dangerous habits some employees may have and are unaware of that may lead to a cumulative injury.

You won't want to miss Dr. Sheila O'Halloran's success stories of sustainable industrial training programs that she has implemented and the successful reduction in injuries that are realized by the employers. Some of the types of industries she has worked with include: bio-tech; computer companies; city agencies — police, fire, public works, etc.; hotels, wineries, pest control; waste disposal; resorts and spas; and accounting firms.
